Surveys like this. Consistently trying to review and improve diversity programs	AfAmer/Black	Female
I think the new idea that if people have a diversity event on campus they get money. As well as weekly howl has recently done a good job telling people of the different diversity event going on, on campus I think this is a good way for people to find out about them.	AfAmer/Black	Female
Programs that support diversity and college specific programs	AfAmer/Black	Female
I think that there are a lot of programs that that students have access to for help and have a feeling of belonging if they are in minority groups. I also think that there are a good amount of advertisement for programs being held by different diversity groups.	AfAmer/Black	Female
"race" oriented programs like symposiums. They need more advertisement. / Thanks for the diverse language programs. Please don't get rid of these courses.	AfAmer/Black	Female
I believe the actions of NC State in light of the recent events has been excellent and helped to promote diversity and no tolerance for people who are not for diversity.	AfAmer/Black	Female
NC State has several resources available that support the idea of diversity on campus. Those who facilitate workshops around this topic are very knowledgeable and provide for a great learning experience.	AfAmer/Black	Female
Holding different diversity events	AfAmer/Black	Female
Forums, programs, events promoting and educating people about things they have never encountered.	AfAmer/Black	Female
Programs that promote diversity, educate others on different backgrounds	AfAmer/Black	Female
The amount of diverse events around campus is great, it's just the students not putting in all the effort.	AfAmer/Black	Female
Some of the campus programs focused on diversity are really helpful, because it is a fun environment. I also have really enjoyed discussions in my class for the diversity requirement. It has been an opportunity to learn about the issues, but also what my fellow students think about certain topics.	AfAmer/Black	Female
Programs and events that highlight the diverse people that attend NC State. Having centers that people who don't necessarily feel like they fit in can go to make friends and feel a sense of community. Having information readily available that educate people on diversity sensitivity	AfAmer/Black	Male
I think the programs and organizations the target minoritites on campus are a great place for people of similar backgrounds to meet and congregate. The administrative offices that are supportive of minorities are an essential part of the minorities' expreience here at State.	AfAmer/Black	Male
The multitude of events and activities are working well. Continue to allow bulletin/pin boards on and around campus	AfAmer/Black	Male
I think NC State is provides several multicultural programs and student organizations that foster the goals of creating a diverse campus.	AfAmer/Black	Male
State offers different programs on diversity so that is good	AfAmer/Black	Male
Student programming	Other/Unknown	Female messages affirming inclusion / open events that facilitate discussion between people who don't know each other / events that bring together the campus community to respond to lack of tolerance / coordinated insitutional efforts to include african american community, GLBT community, some other identity traits	Asian	Female
The free t shirts	Asian	Female
Various events and student organizations are nice to have. The support of whoever the "big voice" of NCSU is is helpful (in emails and on the website).	Asian	Female
Certain individual organizations and groups have done well to promote programs that encourage diversity--for instance, the College of Sciences has put a great emphasis on women in science, and their programs (including the Faculty in Action seminar series and the Women in Sciences dinner) have been great.	Asian	Female
All the awareness emails and campaigns and events.	Asian	Female
There are lot of events and programs catered to various kinds of people. Also, there are a lot of organizations for people to involve in. I have heard and seen a lot of pictures of students from various cultural backgrounds enjoying participating in cultural events and appreciating other cultures. NC State (faculty and students), in general, are very receptive to people from other backgrounds.	Asian	Female

There are student led efforts to create events that spread awareness about diversity. There are also very good professors in chasS that have helped me understand diversity in a historical perspective. We need to continue to start discussion about topics like these	Asian	Female
Official email correspondence from the university reflects diversity in a very positive light / Several diversity events are held	Asian	Female
Clubs, events	Asian	Female
I think that Student Organizations here at NC State are doing a good job of addressing the issue of diversity here on campus. However, I think there is some improvement to be done in terms of implementing their proposed solutions. This begins with collaboration across organizations so campus wide events/programs can be planned to give all of the community here at NC State the opportunity to educate themselves about groups that identify differently from them.	Asian	Female
Different showcases, programs from individual cultural clubs on campus.	Asian	Female
I like how there are so many options and events for things. There always seems to be something happening or a group trying to raise awareness.	Asian	Female
I think awareness events are good. I like the multicultural events. The diversity week is good too. /	Asian	Female
The use of the Free expression tunnel sometimes can be a place that brings us together as a community. Multicultural/diversity events are also have been a positive influence on the community as well.	Asian	Female
Promotion of clubs and events that are run/organized by groups of students from different cultures really gives (well at least for me) awareness of the multi-cultural background of campus. And I really appreciate that the 2014-2015 SBP (Mau) and the 2015-2016 SBP (Cyrus) have been bringing up the need to be a strong support network for everyone on campus after there is a serious WolfAlert that comes up.	Asian	Female
programs spreading awareness	Asian	Female
They should hold more activities to promote diversity on campus and invite student to participate.	Asian	Female
I think there are a large number of diversity events held on campus all the time, and I think it's a very good resource for students and non-students to better understand more on diversity and support it. Moreover, I regard that if the native students and students who are from different races have more opportunities to talk and share each culture and values, it will support the development of diversity in NC State.	Asian	Female
I love all of the activities and how well the staff (that I interacted with) supports diversity. I think the GLBT center is doing a great job at getting themselves out there. I know that the Women's Center is getting up there too. But not as much. I also like how the black fraternities are making more of a change/stand on campus too.	Asian	Female
Various dining hall events (cultural foods), many different student organizations (ethnic, sexual orientation, religious groups).	Asian	Female
I think there are a lot of events and opportunities for students to interact with different people from different backgrounds. There are also a lot of support systems set up by the university to help with any problems.	Asian	Female
Reinforcements of emails when an event has happened on campus or to the NC State community that remind us that NC State promotes diversity and does not tolerate hate	Asian	Female
I think that holding the different diverse events around campus is very helpful to opening students up to different views of life. / I also believe that high "officials" such as our Student Body President emailing/talking about diversity does have an impact on the climate.	Asian	Male
How they hold different events and organizations that support diversity.	Asian	Male
Classes and events	Asian	Male
I love this school. There are many diversity related clubs and events that are always going on. There are also race specific honor societies and teams as well. Everyone on campus is friendly too.	Asian	Male
All the programs done at nc state are doing well to support diversity on campus	Asian	Male
Union Activities Board	Asian	Male

h1	Race	Gender
The events and activities that are held on the NC State campus have one of the bigger impacts in my personal opinion. They help convey the importance of diversity and do it in a fun and exhilarating atmosphere. When people have fun and enjoy each other other's company, race, gender, sex, culture does not matter. After all, a smile is universally understood between all types of humans.	Asian	Male
I think NC State's announcement of diversity really helps to support diversity on campus. Also, different events, organizations, and activities that were advertised and put through helped to bring everyone together.	Asian	Male
Supporting groups of all backgrounds and cultures and the activities related to their groups equally.	Asian	Male
The various programs offered, but not much information is about the programs are readily heard on Campus.	Asian	Male
Events, such as sporting events and Tally events do a great job of supporting everybody and having different-background people come and mingle.	Asian	Trans
I think that the OIED is working well to support diversity as well as the Multicultural Student Affairs. They inform students of multicultural events and other diversity events that students can attend to, which are usually free!	Hispanic/Latino	Female
NC State is offering more opportunities to minority and international students. I think it's great to have a great representation of the global picture as far as culture goes. I have heard about multi cultural events taking place, so that's good.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
Offering lots of multi cultural and diversity events at NC State. These should be required in more classes for students.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
Events and workshops held by OIED centers	Hispanic/Latino	Female
Groups and organizations specifically aimed towards promoting and advocating towards diversity and doing an excellent job towards supporting diversity. They include and promote many events and activities for students to attend, unfortunately, only the people who are aware of these groups and organizations hear about these events. I think the groups and organizations who support diversity do an excellent job, but as a whole I do not believe that NC State is Doing all it could to support and promote diversity.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
I love seeing everyone walk around with the diversity shirts.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
I choose to believe that NC State is doing what they can to support diversity on campus based on the fact that social programs, clubs, and events are actively seeking to inform, and engage the students with their respective groups and events. Many resources such as the University Scholars Program, The Minorities Office, and the occasional ethnic food days at the dining halls are great ways that NC State provide a touch of diversity to the students.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
There is absolutely no tolerance of intolerance or racial/gender bullying. This was made clear after the dissociation of the fraternity with the "burn book". Also, the diversity clubs and activities are easy to find and clearly advertised as much as everything else.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
A lot of promotion of events is awesome because it raises awareness.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
All the activities NC State does outside of the classrooms encourage diversity. I feel very happy at my school and well supported as a Hispanic woman. I could not feel happier to call NC State home.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
Faculty/staff do a good job of not saying anything that could be racist or perceived to be attacking any race. The emails we get from the student body president and the chancellor help show that the university as a whole does not want racism, sexual assault/harassment, or any type of harm to their students to occur. The campus police also does a good job of hosting events like "Do You See What I See" in order to give students a chance to voice their concerns or opinions.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
There is definitely a lot of events that are being promoted that deal with diversity on campus, and their being promoted well because I am usually of an event almost every week.	Hispanic/Latino	Female
Campus events hosted by clubs. Especially ones that are in public areas like the Brickyard. There is a higher chance I'll engaged in a diversity event that is being openly broadcasted in the Brickyard than attending an event that I received an invitation to.	Hispanic/Latino	Male
I think all the publicity of it is working as well as the outreach and programs. This is not going to stop people though.	Hispanic/Latino	Male

NCSU regularly advertises its programs and offices of resources students can turn to should they need help. On the whole, that strengthens the memory of those resources. / / PCOM's SNG and M100 program stresses diversity in that college. I can't speak for others.	Hispanic/Latino	Male
I think that the events that NC State hosts centering around diversity are encouraging people to learn more.	Hispanic/Latino	Male
All of the clubs and programs that help support diversity and open culture to whoever is interested.	Hispanic/Latino	Male
I think all of the offered events are working well, I almost think some of them should be required for students to attend though. But I think the mere diversity of campus initiates friendships and other such interaction between people of all kinds. I also think our generation and the generations to come are naturally becoming more and more open-minded. We should take advantage of this. Making sure people are diversified though in classes and dorms is a great way to start.	White	Female
I think it's very interesting when NC State holds events and things for different religions, but it's more interesting to me as a student when there are cultural events that invite those of other backgrounds or religions to attend. I feel like it really integrates the population and lightens the differences between those of us who hold grudges against other religions and ethnicities.	White	Female
NC State has many events to raise awareness for diversity and its importance.	White	Female
Specifically in the Sport Management program, many classes are about diversity and team work and how to work well with others who may not be exactly like you. I think that Sport Management and PRTM do a great job to teaching, providing examples and explaining diversity and giving students opportunities to ask questions in an open and safe classroom environment.	White	Female
Great groups/clubs and festivals/events for diversity. They could do better marketing of these activities, maybe through the use of the Poole College of Management students/faculty. I believe that they could do better with providing more support for single/married parents on campus. It would be nice to have more people to talk to on a similar level.	White	Female
I like that there is constantly some event going on that is open to anyone and encourages different people to interact or socialize. Even though I don't love working in assigned groups, it can be really beneficial for stepping out of your comfort zone and that is one way that I've made a lot of friends from different backgrounds than myself. Mostly I think any event that encourages everyone to come together is a great way to have positive interaction with people you ordinarily wouldn't -- from Convocation to forum events that we do in First Year College.	White	Female
Student groups do a good job of being welcoming to diverse groups of people, faculty/staff are excellent at treating all students with respect and hearing their opinions in class. Administrators and community leaders like the chancellor and student body president do an excellent job of making it clear that intolerance doesn't have a place at State. Events like the vigil held for the Muslim students from Chapel Hill make me proud to be a part of State's community.	White	Female
events, awareness	White	Female
There are a lot of activities throughout the year to promote diversity and bring students together as one Wolfpack.	White	Female
Fun, interactive, and informative programs highlighting the history and culture of different countries/groups.	White	Female
Plenty of activities and events that emphasize diversity are available for students to attend.	White	Female
I was fortunate to interact with my direct supervisor while working on campus whom is a great advocate for diversity and inclusion. My positive experiences have helped me recognize that hiring employees that act as student mentors makes a huge difference in a student's perception on diversity. Affirmative action items such as the DIVE program offered through Outdoor Adventures promotes a culture of inclusion and open communication to educate others.	White	Female
The events specifically for diversity as well as just the general social events. I think the social events work better because there's no pressure to try and be diverse.	White	Female
Different clubs and associations that aim to support diverse groups, and also events that promote the awareness, although events should be more publicized for students.	White	Female newsletters, campus activities, campus organizations. diversity day	White	Female

I think this year I have seen more diverse events advertised on campus. This is creating a better opportunity to educate students about diversity.	White	Female
I think the events geared toward certain ethnicities/races are what most students respond positively to.	White	Female
The various campus programs and organizations that promote diversity.	White	Female
The required diversity class is a great way to get the entire student body on the same page, and hosting multi-cultural events to get everyone involved is great.	White	Female
There are plenty of clubs and organizations and events that promote diversity and embracing diversity. I also think they do a good job of advertising to the public when these events are however they still seem uninviting. I haven't attended many events because they seem to not be worth my time or i'm afraid it will be awkward.	White	Female
The events because it doesnt cause any discomfort due to the fun atmosphere	White	Female multicultural events to promote socialization, awareness, etc	White	Female
I don't think much is working. When white people are turned away from events because the event is run by an all black group on campus, it's racism. When the entire greek community is put on probation but the ethnic fraternities and sororities and the co-Ed and other feat entities and sororities are not, it promotes problems, it doesn't fix them.	White	Female
I think that the programs currently happening are working well, I just don't believe that diversity is stressed enough. Also, when diversity is stressed its usually more about race than any other differences that may arise between students.	White	Female
Support centers for minority groups, and programs emphasizing the imporance of diversity ! Having staff and faculty with good multicultural competence is excellent as well!	White	Female
Creating events that teach diversity and expand our horizons. Also including diversity education in the course work is important.	White	Female
International clubs / Diversity workshops / Diversity content in class	White	Female
All the workshops, activities, & resources available	White	Female
The administration is trying to support diversity, and is making an effort to deal with problems after they come up (the Chapel Hill shootings, the PKP book and race/gender slurs fiasco). / / My stay in the Scholars Village taught me a lot about people of different races, cultures, and sexual orientations, and the Scholars Program as a whole did a fantastic job of approaching diversity-related issues.	White	Female
I think the ongoing awareness of diversity on campus at NC State is definitely supportive. It's hard to not be aware of how diverse the campus is, especially when there are constant programs and activities going on that support diversity.	White	Female
I think there are a lot of events offered that can enlighten students about diversity. Also, a wide range of people go to nc state and work at nc state that allows for more diversity.	White	Female
Campus wide events that promote diversity talks and education.	White	Female
Efforts to improve diverse thinking and interactions on campus via multicultural events that expose students to different cultures.	White	Female
"Diversity" is a made up concept that supports racism. I think the best way to support a diverse yet fair campus is to STOP focusing on race. If this school, or country, or honestly this world, wants to see an end to racism then we need to stop looking at the color of skin. We need to choose to ignore it because if you want it to not matter then you need to stop acting like it does. It shouldn't matter whether I am male or female. It shouldn't matter if I am white, black, brown, caramel, rainbow. If this school is to support "Diversity" then it supports focusing on race. On college applications there should be no section for me to enter my race. It should all be on my qualifications. Do I have the skills, knowledge and ability to succeed in this program? Yes? Perfect, they are accepted. What happens however is... do we have enough of all the different races in this program? no. Okay, let those of different skin color in the program in order to make it more "diverse" therefore not letting those more qualified in. / It needs to STOP.	White	Female
There are a variety of clubs/groups that participate in diversity awareness as well as host diverse events. It is also clear that NC State values diversity due to the awareness and resources the university provides on the website and in other social events.	White	Female

We are supporting and promoting our multi-cultural greek organizations. We are providing plenty of events to educate people on race and ethnicity. We have lots of classes available about different cultures, countries, and religions for those who want to know more.	White	Female
Different clubs and events. Foods in dining halls is eclectic and introduces people to new things.	White	Female
Each course that I have taken provides a diverse perspective on the topic. Staff and professors do a great job of supporting diversity through assigned readings and discussions. I entered NCSU in 2010 and many of the questions on my college application centered around diversity. I had no clue how this would follow me throughout my time at NCSU. I have recently earned the Global Perspectives Certificate from NCSU. This is a great way to support diversity on campus as it requires you to attend multicultural events. I think if we could get the word out about the GPC, it would provide even more support for diversity!	White	Female
There are numerous multi-cultural organizations on campus that promote diversity, and NCSU frequently hosts cultural activities.	White	Female supporting those who have been lost (suicide, murder (e.i. our three winners)) and always emailing us wolf alerts about assaults are a good thing. they keep us aware and on our toes. having events for black-history month are good (those are really the only ones ive been to). I guess, overall, ncsu is moderately good with diversity.	White	Female
Lots of diversity events are held on campus.	White	Female campus events to encourage diversity, having global meal days and clubs for diversity	White	Female
They do okay. I think they try to blend the crowd as much as possible. It's difficult because as humans we tend to be drawn to people who look/act/think like us instead of diving in to a crowd of unknowns. The school could only do so much. It is still lacking on the support and recognition of non-traditional students. There isn't much in the way of social activities or getting the mainstream crowds to recognize this growing population.	White	Female
I think each group, whether that be racial or gender, has opportunities to speak for themselves in clubs, programs, and events.	White	Female events, multiple opportunities for a variety of student org involvement, class reqs	White	Female
Hosting all campus events that promote diversity is helpful. It is a casual way to learn about diversity, and it allows for students to learn about diversity in a more relaxed environment without it being shoved down their throats.	White	Female
They provide a large number of events that offer a unique look into multiculturalism and are very accessible and open to everyone. Also, the statement that all professors must be fair and accommodating to students with disabilities helps support diversity.	White	Female
Diversity and multicultural events	White	Female
Multicultural programs such as the Tunnel of Oppression or Sexual Assault Awareness Month or Islam Awareness events. However, a lot of these events are self-selecting. People who are already supportive of diversity are the ones going, while the ignorant people who choose to discriminate and do not want to change ignore the events, or even criticize them. I support these issues being talked about in class and forcing students to think about them, eventually leading to understanding and acceptance.	White	Female
Class discussions and events	White	Female
I think what is working well for NC State is having campus wide awareness of the importance of diversity and having activities that allow students to learn more about those who are different from one another.	White	Female
Events like Take Back the Night and multicultural events	White	Female
Y'all have several groups and events to support all the diversity	White	Female
Plenty of events and constant discussion of diversity through emails	White	Female
I think that NC State is truly putting in great efforts into creating events, organizations, and messages to help individuals feel welcomed and comfortable.	White	Female
I think that NC State strives to promote diversity, I like the various events such as HOLI that are held.	White	Female
I think that incorporating diversity into course work and educational workshops is a great way to support diversity.	White	Female

h1	Race	Gender
I think the fact that NC State is so large helps create a community of diverse individuals, but when I look around, I still see mostly caucasian students. I see very few Native American and hispanic students. Seldom do I have black students in my classes. / / I enjoy the ethnicity-specific programs, such as the Pow Wow, Sexual orientation events, and women's events. They help educate in an inclusive environment. I particularly enjoy recieving the Diversity Digest by the OIED.	White	Female
Overall, I believe that NC State projects a drive to promote diversity. This is seen in the literature that NC State has on its website, in emails to students, etc. Applications for admission into NCSU programs also have questions about diversity. I also like that NCSU has offices that stress diversity and equality. Many programs, in their own way, promote diversity.	White	Female
The office of equity, teaching diversity in some classes, and all the events to promote education of different cultures	White	Female
I think they present to the campus, but enforcing it and actually seeing at every inch of campus is going to need help. I still see people clump in groups and not diversing amongst one another because those events usually only attract those from that group specified. A way to improve it would be to open the event like Diversity week where we have representatives from all cultures, genders, and sexualities instead of GLQT event, and African American event and Women In Science- more. It should be all Genders in Science- if that makes sense. It allows for more chance to intermingle and learn about other cultures.	White	Female
I think they have a lot of offices and events that cater to diversity.	White	Female
Diversity Programs offered	White	Female
The availability of many fun events surrounding diversity allows a relaxed atmosphere for people to experience new cultures.	White	Female
NC State is quick to address concerns that threaten diversity if they are single events that capture campus and media attention. The university openly supports LGBT concerns and this helps gain acceptance for people with all sexual orientations. Including diversity in the mission statement sends a positive message as well.	White	Female
Multicultural events.	White	Female
Campus Multicultural Events / RA/Mentor Training Programs / Classes (Dr. Nacoste)	White	Female
I think events like multicultural week work well to get awareness and experience out there for those who are more sheltered with their own ethnicity. I also think working a job on campus has really helped me get to know some people I might not have regularly interacted with because we do not have anything else in common besides working. I like getting to know people from all backgrounds. I feel well-educated and comfortable on all diverse groups because of my job (at university recreation).	White	Female
I love all the multicultural events. I attend them through the University Scholars Program and the Goodnight Scholars Program. I think there should be more programs that encourage students to attend these events ! For example, I am a Christian and I went to an Islam Open Mic Night kind of thing, and I really really enjoyed getting to know more about Islam and meet people of another religion ! I wish more people had come to that event, because attendance was mostly Muslims and I wish that more people had gotten the chance to go.	White	Female
Everything! I think we have great diversity programs and I am a fan.	White	Female
There's a lot of minority and sexual orientation outreach groups and events. There's diversity among my professors and other students.	White	Female
There are many student groups on campus that focus on nurturing the diverse thoughts and ideas of students. I also like how the Union Activities Board has all kinds of events that anyone would enjoy.	White	Female
The frequency of workshops, etc. works well at NC State to support diversity on campus.	White	Female
Support groups and events	White	Female
All of the diversity focused events do a great job adding enjoyment to diversity education	White	Female
I think that NC State does a really good job of promoting diversity through campus-wide events, workshops, and required courses.	White	Female
I think there are a lot of good events to provide diversity opportunities, I just don't know how effectively they are working. We are definitely diverse here there is no question about that, but it's just the extent of how we all interact. I think it's there, I personally feel comfortable talking to anyone ! But I find by some of the racial things in the tunnel or things I hear, that the whole Wolfpack isn't there yet.	White	Female

Honestly, just being friends with/in clubs with/doing class projects together with many kinds of people has done more for me than any university program ever has. I don't really have time to go to events (I work a lot), so it's day to day stuff that helps me more than big events. I think ncsu is doing a good job, but since I'm white I may not be the best person to answer this question. It's not topic I generally talk about with my (diverse) friends.	White	Female
They try really hard to support various ethnic groups but in that support I feel as if these groups bond together and separate themselves from other groups on campus. People of different religions and cultural backgrounds get cliquey with one another and as an admittedly ignorant white girl I don't feel comfortable going to one of their outreach events because I feel like they won't like me or I'll accidentally say something they find inconsiderate.	White	Female
After an incident occurs, the community/NC State talks about what we should do and how to improve/prevent things from happening again	White	Female many programs and organizations to build community amongst people among smaller groups.	White	Female
I like the different events held to educate on diversity, dif cultures, etc /	White	Female
I think that NC State has many great programs to help support diversity on campus (women's center, GLBT, etc.)	White	Female
Promoting all the diversity events in the howl emails. The nc state loves diversity shirts are good too.	White	Female
I think the atmosphere on campus is very inclusive and students are provided with a strong network for support. I think the resources on campus are great and various organizations and activities that are held on campus allow students to come together while supporting common ideas and goals.	White	Female
Various centers that sponsor events and ongoing awareness. Variety of speakers that address current events and ongoing issues. Good communication/reinforcement of diversity and atmosphere of respect from faculty and staff.	White	Female
Diversity programming, student organizations, scholarships, etc	White	Female
There are many events that NC State offers for students to meet students of other races.	White	Female
I think multicultural events, recognition, etc. is working well. There are also many outlets available to students to discuss issues and needs.	White	Female
I think they have many programs available to students that encourage diversity.	White	Female
NC State is extremely accommodating and welcoming to diverse students, faculty members, et cetera. The current programs, clubs, events, and organizations on campus perform superbly.	White	Female
Offering diverse clubs, activities, social events, etc.	White	Female
The Brickyard presentations on new ideas and opinions, even controversial ones. The multicultural events that are held on campus.	White	Female
Staff and most students are supportive of diversity around campus. There are a lot of multicultural events on campus that are inviting to all ethnic groups. When the shooting at chapel hill occurred, NC State did a great job coming together and preparing a memorial service for the Islamic students that passed away.	White	Female
Many diversity events	White	Female
i think individual organizations (CNR Ambassadors and EL Program) focusing on diversity helps. GBLCTA helps.	White	Female
There are lots of organizations and activities that support diversity on campus.	White	Female
To support diversity on campus, I think NC State does a wonderful job at holding multicultural events, providing a wide variety of class subjects and majors, addressing problems of racism and sexism through student conduct, maintaining the foreign language and liberal arts programs and keeping the campus connected on events through emails and Wolfalerts to notify students of current issues and dangers. / I see these strategies working to promote diversity at State and encourage NC State to continue them.	White	Female
Everyone on campus has the opportunity to express themselves and have events for their cultures.	White	Female
High number of support organizations like the Women's Center, Disability Services, LGBT Center, etc., as well as professional organizations like SWE, WISE, NSBE, SHPE, the list goes on. Students have many opportunities to learn about diversity and get involved to help plan diversity activities.	White	Female
I believe that requiring diversity courses is great, especially the one that I took. I also believe that the campus has really pulled together to unify after recent tragic events.	White	Female
Plenty of events held; faculty/staff is well-involved	White	Female

I think the different programs and as stupid as it may sound, the t-shirts. People see it more and more places!	White	Female
Campus events and programs that teach about different backgrounds and holidays, incorporation of diversity in the classroom	White	Female
There are lots of events to support it. We are a diverse campus. Everyone likes to participate in fun events, and a lot of the events are fun	White	Female
I thin that the diversity event requirement in the 100 level entry-class (ex. M100) is a great idea. I live off campus though and have not had a chance to participate in anything, so I cannot say whether it is working or not.	White	Female
Diverse student population, plethora of multicultural events open to all students.	White	Female
The campus-wide programs mean well, at least, and are well-advertised. The DSO is pretty helpful.	White	Female
Student events	White	Female
NC State has a lot of diversity events, which makes it easier to get involved in diversity issues. It also makes it a lot more comfortable to get involved, since some students may prefer a talk vs. a festival and can now choose due to having so many options.	White	Female
I feel like there are plenty of programs to support diversity and NC State is great about shutting down intolerance on campus, especially in light of the recent string of fraternity scandals.	White	Female
Organizations, speakers, class requirements	White	Female
Groups and events	White	Female
There are lots of opportunities@ for students to get involved in diversity-focused meetings, events, etc.	White	Female
Office for Institutional Equity and Diversity programs	White	Female
There are many events and organizations that promote diversity at NC State. If you want information or want o become involved, the resources are available to you. I do think that students who are already interested in becoming aware of diversity have plenty of opportunities to do so.	White	Female
Independent Student Groups, Events that feature diverse groups	White	Female
I think we have a lot of great programs and administrators on campus, but we do not have a student body that cares or is willing to educate themselves on a lot of issues.	White	Female
I think overall, the environment at NC State allows people of diverse backgrounds to interact in a positive way. I think this is mainly due to the overall atmosphere at State rather than the work of programs or courses. However, I believe that courses and programs do allow a small proportion of the students to develop a better understanding of diversity.	White	Female
NC State's administrators do a good job of making it clear, verbally, that diversity is a priority on campus. There are also plenty of events and student groups that celebrate and educate about diversity.	White	Female
I think that the diversity activities that are provided for students to attend help to promote diversity and encourage diverse groups of people to come together. However, the most effective support of diversity I have experienced at NC State has been through taking classes about people groups who are different from me and learning from not only the professor but from students in those classes. / I feel that my religious studies major, through professors and classes, has offered the most meaningful experiences for me in terms of learning about and supporting diversity.	White	Female promoting diversity programs such as mentoring and going to diversity workshops.	White	Female
I think the various out reach programs are working well to encourage diversity on campus. I do feel however that most people tend to stick with those they closely identify with for comfort.	White	Female
CSLEPS programs	White	Female
They have programs available for students to connect and try to make all feel welcome	White	Female nc state has a lot of opportunities for organizations and events that have a diverse population in attendance. ive really enjoyed the international friendship program. i think the other programs that i have heard of like the outdoor activities group outings etc seem pretty great	White	Female

I think all of the different events that are held on campus to encourage and promote diversity allow students to learn about other cultures and meet new people.	White	Female
Programs offering other of different cultures and backgrounds the opportunity to join in activities.	White	Female
Campus initiated activities	White	Female
NC State has wonderful programs and support for these programs that promote diversity	White	Female
I believe that so far, most of your programs (LGBT, Multicultural, women's center, etc) are working very well when it comes to diversity.	White	Female
I think the Diversity Week program and Diversity Outreach with the Executive Student Body Cabinet is an effective way of engaging students in fun diversity-related activities.	White	Female
I think that having events which promote diversity are helping. I think that there should be a way for every student to be exposed to diversity and I think that each student should know that it is not okay to treat others differently based on the race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, etc. I see too many students everyday be offensive to others different from them.	White	Female
I think the different clubs and events help promote peoples difference and it help people gain more knowledge so they can make better decisions. I think this helps limit the amount of harassment done.	White	Female
I think NC State is doing a good job offering multi-cultural student organizations and events.	White	Female
Clubs, organizations, and events that promote multicultural awareness and diversity	White	Female
Campus-wide events, food cultural events, Global Village /	White	Female
Educational lessons on privilege and discrimination within classes. Also, events that are centered around minority culture, but include everybody.	White	Female
I think the diversity events are abundant here and that is great. The student body itself is very diverse so just by going to class you get to interact with people different from you and that's great!	White	Female
All of the activities and events that support diversity. Our professors and classes that also support diversity.	White	Female
The events that promote diversity.	White	Female
Diversity events/programs and classes that discuss diversity.	White	Female
I think the awareness and events are helpful. I would try to promote it so it is more appealing for others to stop by the event.	White	Female
There are many camp organizations that focus on diversity, and these get the word out well and have regularly scheduled events.	White	Female
I think that there are plenty of events and classes that foster or inform people about diversity. I think that there are pockets of students who chose not to interact with people of other backgrounds nor take any class that help them learn about other diversity. I believe a general diversity and ethics class should be created and required of all students, which discusses sexual rights, religions rights, different backgrounds, what is legal and what is illegal in the US, NC, and on campus. Following the taking of this class, I also think that the school should have a ZERO TOLERANCE/expulsion for any students/organizations who discriminate against anyone in any way. Those who make racist, sexist jokes, those who sexually harass or assault, and those who behave in a violent manner towards others should be immediately expelled. I am very proud of the recent suspension of the fraternity whose book was found in a restaurant recently. I believe that by setting examples like that is paramount; where women/people of different ethnicities or religions/people of different sexual orientation and gender identification know for a fact that those who could cause them harm are no longer on campus or no longer organizing with like-minded people, the environment feels much safer and it can truly foster greater diversity.	White	Female
NC State as a whole does a great job of promoting cultural awareness through clubs/organizations and events.	White	Male

The only thing that supports true diversity is attracting students of all kinds here. The Big Brother "diversity" programs assert that having a different skin color or sexual preference somehow makes a person more valuable. It is not based on personal merit, not on academic achievement, but solely on demographic factors. This breeds a contempt for white heterosexual males like myself. I enjoy interacting with people of all creeds and races (when I am not shunned,) but I don't give a damn about anything other than whether they are personable or not. If the university is populated 100% by whites, blacks, Arabs etc. does not make a single difference to me. Whatever best produces productive members of society is what I am for, not "diversity."	White	Male
All programs work well	White	Male
I enjoy seeing all of the diversity events, but I dont think its necessary to keep shoving the idea of diversity down everyone's throat. We are more or less forced to interact with a diverse student body in each of our classes. I already speak to students of diverse backgrounds/races/beliefs without being told to.	White	Male
The events being offered to increase diversity	White	Male
The different events held by SG as well as the campus itself. In addition, new initiatives and open communication.	White	Male
NC State makes a noticeable effort to be a diverse campus and it shows. They host a lot of events and have information readily available. They also have good resources for people if they need them.	White	Male
Multicultural activities	White	Male
I'm enrolled in the physics program. I particularly appreciate how many of my professors are women. I also like that many of the professors I've had are foreign, but this doesn't work as well in giant lecture halls. The smaller PY 252 class I took with Dr. Mehta was great because she's great. Also, if I had trouble understanding anything she said (sometimes accents get in the way), I felt comfortable asking her after class because the class was small enough that she knew who I was. The COURSE that I took with NAME, on the other hand, was terrible. He'd spend three or four hours a week lecturing to an auditorium with literally hundreds of people in it, through a terrible microphone, and I had no idea what he was saying. It was really bad; his handwriting was illegible, and the class was too large for me to ask for clarification. I'd have to shout 'WHAT'S THAT EXPONENT SUPPOSED TO BE???' across a giant auditorium, and that's not something I want to stop class for. Anyway, I guess what I'm getting at is: Diverse professors: a really important, good thing! Giving professors with thicker accents giant classes that they have to teach with microphones: a stupid plan	White	Male
Multicultural events	White	Male
There are a huge number of events that go on at NC State that are directed toward promoting diversity. The administration is also visibly supportive.	White	Male
All the student activities.	White	Male
I think NCSU has done a great job of supporting diversity through the development of programs for students who are considered minorities	White	Male
All the programs and events that are put on.	White	Male
I do not understand why diversity needs to be encouraged so much. When I see programs trying to draw women into engineering I, as a male, feel as if they would rather have a woman in my place and it make me feel very uncomfortable and unwelcome in the engineering program that I have dreamed of being accepted into since I was five years old and worked my whole life to achieve it. The same goes for diversity event; my friends that are minorities have events they can attend before move in day where they can meet other people of the same minority. When I hear of things like this I wonder why I was not invited to NC State to hear a motivational speaker talk before moving into a scary new environment. Is it because a majority of people that go to this school are the same race as me? Because if that is the case, it isn't like just having that one thing in common makes us friends or more likely to have something in common. I just feel more excluded when I hear of events that people get invited to just because of their skin color and it makes the campus feel divided.	White	Male

I think the programs implemented across campus have helped, but to be honest, the one thing that has helped me the most in changing my attitudes and behaviors with diversity were making friends who came from very different backgrounds than I did. Being in organizations such as Student Senate, have allowed me to meet a very diverse group of people at N.C. State and have made a significant in my life and how I treat others in regards to diversity. I think if we can give students more and more opportunities to engage students from a vast array of different backgrounds, we will only increase the support of diversity on our campus. //	White	Male
The resident hall parties/events	White	Male
I believe NCSU is making multicultural organizations easily accessible and supporting their events. I like that all of the information is available to all students.	White	Male
I don't necessarily think that NC State needs to go out of its way to support diversity outside of simply providing opportunities for students and/or faculty to create organizations and host events for whatever they care about. I think its more-so having the open mind-set to allow and host people who are from a diverse background, not necessarily putting forth policies to make diversity happen. For the size of school NC State has and will continue to be, diversity just happens, and its the job of the University to simply allow it to happen and protect against discrimination.	White	Male
I think Diversity days including the t-shirts are cool. The university's response to the killings of "Our Three Winners" was also very commendable. // This survey was way too long	White	Male
Social events around campus	White	Male
I think the events in the Brickyard are very good at informing students about diversity.	White	Male all the different programs that are offered. their is quite literally something for everyone	White	Male
The programs on campus that inform students that diversity is a major part of NC State and that we should be aware of diversity.	White	Male
I think that the majority of the programs at NC State do very well in supporting diversity on campus.	White	Male
Widespread events promoting diversity	White	Male
Activities not focussed solely on diversity.	White	Male
Holding diversity oriented events to teach people about a different culture	White	Male
All the events.	White	Male
I think the choices for fulfilling university GEP requirements along with the events provided by NCSU and on-campus organizations serve well in promoting diversity.	White	Male
Plenty of events happening, NC State is supportive of each diverse group to get them the attention and their word out about their events, NC State is putting diversity first and it is being recognized among students	White	Male
We talk about diversity a lot in class and we are encouraged to go out to different events to experience diverse cultures. I feel comfortable talking to anyone in my class no matter the gender/race and I feel that NC State often pushes us to interact with each other in a good way.	White	Male
- Quick response from administrators to incidents against diversity / - Campus events sponsored by diverse campus organizations / - Diverse population	White	Male
I think the diversity programs are good at bringing people of the same demographic together that otherwise would not know each other but between demographics there could be more interaction.	White	Male
Campus activities, service projects, classroom environment.	White	Male
I feel that the Diversity classes that are part of every major's curriculum are needed and an important piece of recievi g a "well rounded" education. The workshops, student organizations and faculty do a good job at gaining awareness and education on all fronts.	White	Male
Activities and events. No-tolerance policy	White	Male

The programs are good but often times it seems like so much emphasis is placed on diversity that the best students aren't always accepted. In my experience, some smarter white students with better grades are denied while black students with worse grades are accepted.	White	Male
Lots of readily available information and events to inform the students on campus about diversity. Diversity comes in many forms and NC State does a good job informing its students of the importance of diversity and how to make others feel welcome.	White	Male
Events that ask students to come together and information that brings people closer and informs them on things they may not have been exposed to before.	White	Male
The clubs, events, constant reminders through courses and emails from NCSU staff help to remind you to strive to promote ethnicity. Many professors as well are very good at promoting various viewpoints.	White	Male
NC State is taking initiatives to ensure students, faculty, and staff of all races and ethnicities feel comfortable in nearly every situation. Action is always taken when an event could potentially negatively effect the NC State Community. The university puts ample effort into creating an honest and open environment for all.	White	Male
The number of multicultural groups and activities promoted on campus clearly support diversity at NC State. Having a large international community supports diversity as well.	White	Male
NC State is doing a lot to further it's diversity. There are many activities and campus communities dedicated to the university's diversity goals. I do believe they are having some positives impacts in the realms of awareness: some people are learning things they didn't know before. However, I do not see this knowledge changing much about the way people already feel. In few cases, yes, awareness is leading to more inclusion. But in most cases, this abundance of information is just being poured out on people who are already aware and doing everything they can for diversity. I'm starting to believe that the university is being wasteful by putting so much effort into trying to make people who are already aware and supportive of diversity even more aware. When I see the amount of resources being used to further this goal even further, I question whether they could be better used in the realm of education. I'm also beginning to question whether standards in the quality of students being admitted are being lowered to reach the desired level of diversity. Students at our university should be selected on academic achievement alone. They should not being given more of a chance because they were born into a certain group of people or with certain qualities. Resources should go into helping us improve our acedemic levels and not our diversity levels. If those coincide, then great ! I believe at one point academia and diversity did correlate together in improvement. We opened our minds and began including people who in the past may have been overlooked. However, I now think that the two have become seperate and if we keep investing in furthering diversity any more we're going to see some negative impacts in the quality of our education. It's quite possible that this situation is like a bell curve. We're about to hit our peak. Now let's be proud of what we've accomplished and refocus on our core purpose before we start to go down and lose all the effort we've put in. Don't forsake diversity altogether ! It truly is a beautiful thing. Contiue making it a priortiy, as it should be, but readjust some resources and redirect our core focus back to superior education, because that is what if could be. People join the Wolfpack to recieve the best education possible, an education they value while being valued by their peers.	White	Male
NC State does more than enough. Sometimes you can offer people all the assistance in the world and they will resist. You can offer all sorts of services and programs but at the end of the day it's up to the individual.	White	Male
Just let everyone work together in classes, student organizations, athletics, and other extracurricular activities. I have learned more about other types of people from being in class with them then anything else. NC State tries to force diversity on everyone and that is not the correct way to go about things. I took an US Diversity class and it was AWFUL, literally one of the worse classes ever. Although the instructor was polite she seemed to just talk about how bad white people treat other races, which really just left a bad taste in my mouth about diversity as a whole. I LOVE NC State, but it needs to stop trying to force diversity on everyone and focus on being the best academically that it can be.	White	Male
Plenty of well-publicized events and counseling centers	White	Male

There appears to be no shortage of activities or communication when it comes to diversity events. However, most students that are pursuing difficult degrees do not have the spare time to participate in these activities. I have to spend all my time on my academics, because I am pursuing an engineering degree. This pursuit barely leaves time for me to attend Mass on Sunday.	White	Male
Hosting events that focus on diversity. Spreading the word.	White	Male
I think NC State does a great job at promoting diversity and open-mindedness on campus. There are many programs to participate in that promote diversity, as well as many ways that diversity is worked into the courses taught. Information is also easily attainable.	White	Male
Making students aware of the programs available for assistance and general knowledge is the best thing that NC State does for us. Continuing to expose students to the availability of programs and offices is the most effective way to help students.	White	Male
Campus-wide events. Although I've yet to attend one, I believe that is a great way to promote a welcoming atmosphere that treats each individual with equality.	White	Male
I do like the policies in place, but I think there needs to be more of an incentive for students to take part in diverse events.	White	Male
NC State is doing a fine job of promoting diversity. I think the best way for students to understand that diversity is important, isn't just advertising it, is actually seeing it. We see people that are different from us every single day, I usually think that I'm proud to go to NC State where we promote our differences. My suggestion: Put forth a program that cuts down on the stereotypical/crude jokes. A campaign to sign up saying we'd never use inappropriate slurs and respect the pack. Something along those lines that would start with some students and peer pressure others into stop using stereotypical sayings. We had something similar at our high school and it worked pretty well.	White	Male
I think all of the social events that are thrown together by various student organizations encourage a lot of people (of all types) to come and meet each other.	White	Male
I think that the effort is working well, but due to the type of people that come to state racial tensions will be an issue no matter how many pointless activities or workshops you organize for some time to come.	White	Male
University programs at orientation	White	Male
I think that there are excellent centers and programs dedicated to increasing awareness and respect for diversity issues at NC State. In my personal experience with diversity, I think the main problem is that students are simply coming in with very little knowledge about diversity and some unhelpful preconceptions that render the efforts of the university to foster inclusion and respect less effective. Still, even though the "fault" may not lie with the university, I firmly believe the "responsibility" does. One absolutely ubiquitous problem in my Physics classes is use of the word "gay" as a synonym for "bad". Also, there is a plurality of sexist comments (meant as good natured jokes with the female minority, but often resented by these women). The university needs to discuss with staff and faculty that these transgressions are violations of the student code of conduct on equal footing with academic misconduct. While cheating is explicitly discouraged by professors and addressed immediately if noticed in the classroom, these interpersonal transgressions are not. I think faculty and staff need greater encouragement to intervene in these situations, and even to send students to Student Conduct. The students who are causing the problems I see are anchored in their ignorance and resentful of efforts to change their mind. I am convinced that they will only respond to punitive measures taken against them or at least noted as a potential consequence of their actions.	White	Male
Plenty of events to raise awareness.	White	Male
All of the different events	White	Male
A positive attitude toward student organizations and events focusing on raising awareness of certain cultural groups, or fighting for equality among different cultural groups.	White	Male
The programs available to students and faculty allow for diversity education and improved appreciation.	White	Male
Many multicultural events.	White	Male

On campus, NC State does a sufficient job of supporting diversity through multicultural organizations and events, offering assistance through various support offices, and spreading diversity awareness through material taught in course lectures.	White	Male
The coursework that addresses diversity generally does a good job of informing and educating students both about issues related to various identities and about how they can be more inclusive. As a student with degrees in different colleges, I've noticed that some are decidedly better about this - CHASS, for example, includes this as an element of nearly all courses, and students in the college seem to deal with diversity better as a whole. / / NC State does a good job of supporting diversity through policy and administrative leadership, and I've seen first hand how the administration and most of the faculty work hard to support students of all different backgrounds, identities, and ways of life. The university's willingness to react when necessary has been very reassuring. / / There seems to have been an increase in diversity related programming on campus, which I would say is very positive, although not all of that programming is of the highest quality.	White	Male
I think that the multicultural events/workshops/etc work well at introducing students to the diverse population.	White	Male
The many different events and activities around campus that have to do with diversity and different cultural events even though I have not been to any myself. There always seems to be something going on somewhere.	White	Male
All of the awareness events are beneficial to make students aware of what is going on in the world.	White	Male
Hosting events/clubs/groups that welcome all races and religious backgrounds. It is nice to have groups dedicated to minority "hobbies/discussion" but I feel that is part of the cause of predigest views. The events including a variety of cultures or ethnicity have given me the most opportunity to talk to and learn from/about a person from different background than myself.	White	Male
The Women's Center and OIED both do a lot to support diversity on campus. I am involved with the Chancellors' First-Year Student Leadership Program and we thoroughly support the diversity on campus. The conversations regarding diversity and very frequent and very influential for my views on it.	White	Male
Good programs	White	Trans
Multicultural oriented events	White	Trans
I think having the centers for specific needs (like the women's center and the african america center) is good. Also events like the tunnel of oppression could be eye opening for a lot of students. I think an student body president that is active in diversity issues is what impressed me most this post year. Rusty Mau supporting protesters and speaking out against racism was a big step that made me proud of my school and it made a lot of people feel like our school supports them.	White	Trans

The majority of students make it through their courses with little to no exposure to true diversity, diversity education, and general education regarding interacting with different kinds of people. The diversity courses are an absolute joke. I took a russian cinema course with a racist/sexist man teaching it and learned nothing about diversity. Most students are racist and bigoted and are never challenged to learn or think differently. I have heard numerous hateful things from students and I am confident NCSU does not do a good job teaching diversity. Most people who need diversity education will do everything to circumvent it. The only people benefitting from diversity education at state are those who are already diverse and/or open minded. I believe all students should have to take an ACTUAL diversity education course, if not multiple. Courses should focus on gender, orientation, race, socio-economic status and teach students that they should hate people who are different from them. Diversity needs to be celebrated. I learned nothing about diversity and identity from NCSU, I have learned everything by actively seeking out resources online and off campus. I am disgusted that students who have made it to senior year still snicker at the idea of someone being trans. I know a student who almost beat up a guy just for complimenting him ! State is doing nothing to combat hate, WHICH IS SEEN CLEARLY AMONGST OUR GREEK LIFE WHO ACTIVELY ENGAGE IN EXCLUSIONARY AND HATEFUL BEHAVIOR ! I think greek life at NCSU should be completely dissolved and maybe those spending $3000 a year on nothing can donate it instead. Greek life has done nothing but hurt this school and hurt it's students. I am ashamed to be a student at this school and have only stayed because I have no other options do to finances. The diversity programs here need to be developed by actually diverse people. If I have to hear another straight, white, rich, male tell me something about diversity I will scream.	White	Trans
Lots of programs and organizations	White	Trans
I really appreciate the actions taken by NCSU administration in the case of the fraternity 'little green book.' I also appreciate the speedy Wolf Alerts letting us know about sexual violence on campus. The multi-cultural events are great and well rounded.	White	Trans
I am not too sure, because whenever I go to a diversity event, I notice the main population there is that of the event's background/ethnicity/race. So, maybe there could be more inclusion of other races/backgrounds and so on.	White	Trans
I'm not really sure of the answer to this question since I am not in tune with NCSU diversity events and organizations.	White	Trans
Support of student organizations. Diversity events.	White	Trans
I appreciate the email invitations to diversity events even though I personally cannot attend. Knowing that there are such events makes me hopeful about continued unity for my biracial siblings and their college experience.	Mult race	Female
In my two years at State, there has been more advocacy for diversity and more diverse campus organizations getting their name out there and having events relevant to what they represent. This kind of exposure to the rest of the student body whether it be in the brickyard, wolf plaza or Talley, is great and really important because I believe State has a lot of diversity that goes unnoticed.	Mult race	Female
All the programs.	Mult race	Female
Having the multicultural centers, African American center and all of the other minority centers. Spreading awareness through events, clubs, programs, and even in the classroom. Also, the Global Village is actually where I live, and they do plenty of programs and activities that embraces diversity.	Mult race	Female
The diversity events are fun and informative	Mult race	Female
I think there are a lot of programs and places that help support diversity but it sometimes feels like it's hard to access them	Mult race	Female

I think it's good to include everyone but it is just as important to celebrate what makes us individuals. / No one should be shunned because of their faith or lack of it. / We can all respectfully disagree without resorting to violence. / I think the events and programs are great.	Mult race	Female
Recently, I think there has been a larger push to have a more inclusive environment at NC State in support of diversity from the administrative and student level. I have seen and attended a lot more programming aimed and informing and educating others about other cultures and respecting them.	Mult race	Female
I think the different events promoting positive growth and diversity on campus are great at introducing students and giving us exposure.	Mult race	Female
I think having events that support different cultures is good but maybe there should be more like on a regular basis or something else that promotes more of it.	Mult race	Male
What is working well is the faculty's respect for diversity. I am an engineer and when I walk into class there is usually only one other person who looks like me in the room. However, being a minority I am in MEP and that department does a wonderful job living it's mission because of the staff and administration. Dr. Jerome Lavelle and Angelitha Daniels and devoted to increasing the number of multicultural students in engineering and retaining those students until their graduation. More departments on campus must take the same approach and involvement as the engineering one does to make a difference in the academic side of things. Another thing that is working well is the accessibility to multicultural programming by housing staff. The majority of students live in a residence hall upon entering NC State, so that can play a key role in the climate and environment that one perceives NC State of having. Also, the on campus organizations that are bigger like IRC, UAB, CSLEPS, etc do a good job of putting on multicultural programs.	Mult race	Male
The promotion of diverse groups and programs like African American, Native American and Hispanic American cultural months as well as LGBT events.	Mult race	Male
NC State has many resources available, such as diversity programs (WISE, etc.) in addition to extracurricular student-run clubs on campus that allow students to participate in and learn about diversity, should they choose to do so.	Mult race	Male
The multiple diversity programs.	Mult race	Male
I think that NC State does a good job of trying to put on diversity events and requiring students to fulfill diversity requirements before graduating. NC State, because it's in a small Southern state, tends to have a lot of white, small town types who don't know much about diversity and people who think different. College is where you learn the most about what you want to do and the people around you that you have to live with on planet Earth. NC State does a good job of living up to that.	Mult race	Male
The support of what happened this semester for the Muslim students Was awesome. Do that for students of all religions. We also need to do more to provide information about homicide /suicide prevention for women, men, all races	Mult race	Male
University Housing does a great job of supporting diversity. Other campus programs such as Schools and other villages do as well. Diversity groups such as the Women's Center, etc also have great programs to support students. Student organizations such as SAGE also support diversity on campus. I think these programs however are not accessible to students living off campus.	Other/Unknown	Female
I think that NCSU has a great program of getting the message out that the university supports diversity. The problem lies in the execution; I find that the importance of diversity is not implemented.	Other/Unknown	Female
