- 75% of respondents in CED said they had obtained a full-time position
- CED graduates with full-time employment (excluding internships) reported an average starting salary of $44,861 (median = $36,250)
- 89% of CED graduates with full-time employment said they would be working in North Carolina (50% in the Research Triangle Area)
- One respondent in CED indicated they were planning to go to graduate/professional school in the year after graduation

Department Summaries

The following table provides summary statistics for December 2018 graduates in each of the College of Education departments. It includes the number of students in the department who graduated in December 2018 and the number of those students who submitted the Undergraduate Future Plans Survey. It also includes the number of students who indicated that at the time of the survey they had already accepted a full-time position (including military and volunteer work [e.g., Peace Corps]), and the number who indicated they were either attending or planning on attending graduate or professional school in the coming year. Finally, it includes summary statistics on the self-reported salaries of those having accepted full-time employment.
